COLDWATER Sheriff's Dept.

Dear Junior Investigator,

Every lead in this investigation points to the Coldwater Laundromat. We know the killer was there, but after weeks of reviewing records and questioning witnesses, we still do not know their name.

Until today, you served as an Investigative Aide. Your attention to detail has earned you a promotion to Junior Investigator—and your first assignment.

The enclosed file contains seven clues and a directory of everyone connected to the laundromat. Review the evidence, eliminate the innocent, and identify the subject.

Review the attached evidence.

Cross out innocent names.

Identify the Killer

We have the location. Now find the name.

Signed,

Debbie Calloway

MINI-CASE FILE

THE EVIDENCE

Review the entire mini-case file and identify the subject.

FORENSIC LINGUISTICS

The Forensic Linguistics Unit examined the subject directory and found several noteworthy patterns in the subject's first name.

- 1 Linguistic analysis confirmed the subject's first name contains the letter I.
- 2 Examination confirmed at least one letter appears more than once in the subject's name
- 3 Cross-reference analysis confirmed the subject's name is within 10 names of two consecutive entries that begin with J and M, in that order

WITNESS STATEMENTS

WITNESS #14

7/31 4:49 PM

“ I swear I saw that name listed between two people named Jonathan. ”

WITNESS #27

7/31 10:07 PM

“ There must have been two other people with exactly the same first name as the subject. ”

VERIFIED

DETECTIVE NOTES

- The subject's name is longer than both names listed directly beside it
- The subject's name ends with the same letter as one of the names listed directly beside it
